

The Future of EU Foreign & Security Policy: Post-Election Perspectives

25 June 2024

Istituto Affari Internazionali

17:00 -18:15

Via dei Montecatini 17- Rome

Following the European elections, the external threats facing the EU come back into view, whether Russia's invasion of Ukraine, the war in Gaza, economic and energy dependencies, or the climate crisis. Two separate Horizon Europe research projects have each come up with a number of recommendations for how the EU can strengthen its geopolitical power amidst these challenges: the JOINT project led by IAI and the ENGAGE project with the Carnegie Europe Foundation. Drs Riccardo Alcaro (IAI) and Cornelius Adebahr (Carnegie) will present the projects' findings and discuss them with all participants. The meeting will be followed by a cocktail reception.
